

SHOWCASE

ANTELOPE VALLEY PRESS, March 2, 1990

- 'Tony N' Critics' 10
- Las Vegas listings..... 13

Arts • Entertainment • Travel • Dining

'Indiana Gurba'

"I didn't like getting all messy, freezing and boiling," says Lancaster Museum/Art Gallery curator Norma Gurba of her archaeology days. "People don't realize that archaeology is not Indiana Jones where you dig something and the gold just falls out of the ground." Her real love is Egyptology, and Gurba finally has the chance to host a show of Egyptian artifacts and a symposium. She talked to Karla Tipton about her work in Egypt, and about her pet peeve — space alien stories. See Page 3.

Also in Showcase:

- Cheaper housing brings many new residents; now cheaper facility rental has brought a major polka festival to the Antelope Valley Fairgrounds this weekend. See Page 2.

- Marimba player Linda Maxey comes to town as part of the Antelope Valley Community Concerts season, while the organization announces its next season. See Page 2.

- Table for Two reviews a delightful and different new restaurant, the India House, on Page 10.

— Valley Press photo by Gene Breckner

